All the books in this catalogue are new books due for release in September 2014.

Because they are new books, we are at the whim of the publishers and to some extent the shipping companies - books can sometimes arrive later (or earlier) than anticipated, or occasionally be a different retail price than originally quoted. Because space is a luxury, we bring in limited quantities of books, and prices are subject to change without notice.

Please reserve copies of anything you want so you don't miss out - ASAP!

If a book has sold-out by the time we receive your order, we will back-order and supply when available.

Pulp Fiction has access to thousands of books not shown in our monthly catalogues. We are only too happy to order anything if we don't have it on the shelves.

If you can't make it into the shop, you can post, phone, fax or e-mail your order. We accept Bankcard, Mastercard, Visa, AMEX, cheques and Australia Post Money Orders.

Approximate current postage within Australia is: 1 -2 paperbacks (up to 500 grams), $7.95.

2-10 paperbacks or any trade paperbacks or hardcovers within Brisbane is $9.85.

Outside Brisbane metro area (over 500 grams up to 3 kilos), $11.40. Anything above 3 kilos charged at Australia Post rates.

Until next time, good reading!

PERFIDIA

ELLROY, James
Ellroy is back with the first book in a second "L.A. Quartet" and the same darkly stylish crime writing that made him famous. With the internments that commenced after the bombing of Pearl Harbor, a Japanese American family is found dead in Los Angeles. Was it murder or ritual suicide? That question ends up involving a top-notch Japanese American forensic chemist, a risk-taking young woman, real-life police officer William "Whiskey Bill" Parker, and corrupt police office Dudley Smith of "L.A. Confidential" fame. "[A] disturbing, unforgettable, and inflammatory vision of how the men in charge respond to the threat of war. It's an ugly picture, but just try looking away." - Booklist. This is confronting and compelling. Recommended.

STRANGE SHORES

INDRIDASON, Arnaldur
A young woman walks into the frozen fjords of Iceland, never to be seen again. But Matthildur leaves in her wake rumours of lies, betrayal and revenge. Decades later, somewhere in the same wilderness, Detective Erlendur is on the hunt. He is looking for Matthildur but also for a long-lost brother, whose disappearance in a snow-storm when they were children has coloured his entire life.

REYKJAVIK NIGHTS

INDRIDASON, Arnaldur
Erlendur works nights. He's a young officer in Traffic, not yet a detective. And Reykjavik's nights are full of car crashes, robberies, drinkers and fighters. Sometimes an unexplained death. A homeless man Erlendur knows is found drowned. But few people care. Or when a young woman on her way home from a club vanishes. Both cases go cold. Erlendur is not an investigator, but his instincts tell him their fates are worth pursuing. Inexorably, he is drawn into the blackness of the city's underbelly, where everyone is in the dark or on the run. A prequel to the brilliant but grim series recently concluded.

ESCAPE

MANOTTI, Dominique
It's 1987. Two prisoners, both Italian, break out of prison in a rubbish lorry. One heads for Paris, the other to Milan. The first, Carlo, is killed in a shoot-out during a bank robbery under suspicious circumstances. Frightened by the manhunt launched by Interpol, the second prisoner, Filippo, returns to Paris where he becomes a security guard. He spends his nights writing the story of a Red Brigadier, as recounted to him in prison by Carlo. His landlady Cristina finds him a publisher and the book becomes a bestseller. Filippo, carefully coached by his publishers press office, steadfastly refuses to own the story, insisting that all his stories are fiction and that this is a work of imagination. The public don't buy it, and neither do the police...

WHITE CROCODILE

MEDINA, K.T.
When emotionally damaged mine-clearer Tess Hardy travels to Cambodia to find out the truth behind her ex-husband's death, she doesn't know much about the country or its beliefs. On arrival, she finds that teenage mothers are going missing, while others are being found mutilated and murdered. As local superstitions breed fear, Tess is drawn into a web of lies that stretches from Cambodia to another murder in England, and a violent secret twenty years old. "Few crime novels deserve to be called operatic - in the sense of being larger than life, with emotions etched in the most striking of colours - but K T Medina's remarkable debut certainly qualifies for the adjective." - Barry Forshaw.

COBRA

MEYER, Deon
Why would a mathematics professor from Cambridge University, renting a holiday home outside Cape Town, require a false identity and three bodyguards? And where is he, now that they are dead? The only clue to the bodyguards' murder is the snake engraved on the shell casings of the bullets that killed them. Investigating the massacre, Benny Griessel and his team find themselves being drawn into an international conspiracy with shocking implications. It seems it is not just the terrorists and criminals of Britain and South Africa who may fear the Professor's work, but the politicians too. Recommended.
Thriller TP $29.99

CONFESSIONS

MINATO, Kanae
When Yuko Moriguchi's four-year-old daughter died in the middle school where she teaches, everyone thought it was a tragic accident. It's the last day of term, and Yuko's last day at work. She tells her students that she has resigned because of what happened - but not for the reasons they think. Her daughter didn't

SAVAGE MAGIC

SHEPHERD, Lloyd
It's 1814 and the streets of London's Covent Garden are at the centre of a dark trade, enticing rich and poor alike with a cocktail of gin and beer and sex. Behind their own fashionable private doors in the surrounding parishes a group of aristocratic young men are found murdered behind locked doors, all of them wearing the mask of a satyr. Constable Charles Horton's investigation into these violent crimes begins, quite by chance, at Thorpe Lee House in Surrey, where accusations of witchcraft have swept the village. What connects these broken London men, savage with the pursuit of pleasure, and a country village awash with folklore and talk of burning witches?

A VERY BRITISH MURDER

WORSLEY, Lucy
"This is the story of a national obsession. Ever since the Ratcliffe Highway Murders caused a nation-wide panic in Regency England, the British have taken an almost ghoulish pleasure in 'a good murder'. This fascination helped create a whole new world of entertainment, inspiring novels, plays and films, puppet shows, paintings and true-crime journalism - as well as an army of fictional detectives who still enthrall us today. A Very British Murder is Lucy Worsley's captivating account of this curious national obsession. It is a tale of dark deeds and guilty pleasures, a riveting investigation into the British soul by one of our finest historians." - Publisher's blurb. If you can possibly see the three part BBC series - DO SO! Great stuff! Love Dr Lucy!

THE NIGHT WATCHMAN

ZIMLER, Richard
Chief Inspector Henrique Monroe of the Lisbon Police Department is not your usual cop. Eccentric, elliptical - and stunningly observant - his peculiar behavior at crime scenes is legendary. But his colleagues put up with it because, in the end, Monroe's the best of the best. But he has a double-sided secret. And when he's called to investigate the brutal slaying of well-connected Portuguese businessman Pedro Coutinho, it's not just the murder case that will unravel - but his own identity, too.
